Dear Ferdie:

You are one of the few people who have written us as you did so generously some weeks ago about stopping further royalty payments, and I want you to know we deeply appreciate your thoughtfulness. We will cease royalty payments as of the last payment date, which was in July, but we will surely let you know how your book is going from time to time.

Do come in and see us when you have got a chance. There are always things cooking agriculturally here at the University of Oklahoma Press.

Cordially yours,

Savoie Lottinville
